TEACHER KILLED, DRIVING.

Miss Leckie of Manchester, N. H., Was Thrown Out in Runaway.

Manchester, N. H., July 21.—Miss Bessie Leckie, a teacher in the Varney grammar school, was killed last night in a runaway accident. She was driving on Mast street, west Manchester, with Andrew R. Simpson, a clerk in the Besse-Edridge Clothing company, when the horse ran away. Miss Leckie was thrown out and her skull fractured.

The accident occurred about 9 p. m., and she died within an hour. Simpson was also thrown out, but was not seriously hurt.

Miss Leckie was 23 years old, had taught for two years in Varney school and was prominent in the work of the South Main street Congregational church. She was the daughter of Andrew Leckie, proprietor of a drug store in West Manchester and an engraver in the Amoskeag mills.

RODJESTVENSKY DEAD.

Russian Admiral Died at a German Health Resort.

Badenauheim, Germany, July 21.—Vice Admiral Rodjestvensky, who commanded the ill-fated Russian fleet which was annihilated by the Japanese in the sea of Japan in May, 1905, died here Sunday night from heart trouble, resulting, it is believed, from injuries received in the battle of the sea of Japan.

A Plucky Deputy Sheriff.

The Ludlow deputy sheriff who lies in the city hospital in danger of his life from the murderous wounds of an enraged Italian woodchopper has demonstrated that personal grit and courage in the face of deadly peril are by no means unknown in these prosaic and law-abiding days. Hacked in several places by the double bitted axe of the wild Italian, he lay on the ground and fired at the would-be murderer, then engaged in a desperate grapple with the officer's assistant, until he was able to lodge a bullet in the Italian's leg a wound which finally brought the man to arrest.

Frank A. Hayden may have been unwary but he showed the real stuff when death in a violent and bloody form stared him straight in the face.

As to his intended slayer, a heavy sentence is the least that justice can do to him. It is a pity that, at the end thereof he should not be deported to his own place and forbidden to re-enter this country.

Antonio Valiente is certainly an undesirable citizen.—Rutland Herald.

BOTH CHECKS WORTHLESS

And Two People Are Now Looking For Slick Stranger.

Burlington, July 21.—Stanton Williams, the genial proprietor of a general store at Charlotte, would like to know the whereabouts of a smooth-talking individual who touched him for $26 with a fine example of a forged certified check, and H. O. Wheeler of this city has for rent at Cedar Beach a cottage which the same smooth-talking man leased for the season.

About two weeks ago Mr. Wheeler advertised the cottage. A middle-aged man, who gave his name as Orlando S. Smith of Buffalo, N. Y., appeared. He claimed to have a wife and one child and to have spent last summer on Lake George, but wished to come to Lake Champlain this year.

He made many inquiries about the place and about the manner of getting supplies, and went to Cedar Beach to look over the cottage. Returning in the afternoon, he assured Mr. Wheeler that the cottage was quite to his liking and agreed to take it for the season, tendering a check on a Buffalo bank in payment. The next morning he went to Charlotte, ordered some $12 worth of groceries of Stanton Williams, to be sent to Cedar Beach and incidentally asked Mr. Williams to cash what purported to be a certified check on a Buffalo bank for $50, saying that he was to be at Cedar Beach for the summer and expected to do considerable trading there. The check appeared to be all right and Mr. Williams passed over the money.

Mr. Wheeler promptly deposited his check at the Howard National bank in this city and it was sent to Buffalo for collection. The reply came back that no man by that name had an account there. A few days later the check which "Mr. Smith" had given Mr. Williams reached the Howard bank and again it was reported from Buffalo that the paper was worthless. The forgery was an artistic one, Cashier Rutter declaring that the certified check, in particular was correctly made out. Mr. Williams sent to Cedar Beach for the sugar and other good things which he had delivered on "Mr. Smith's" order, and some other place will shelter the slick stranger during the warm summer days yet to come.

CLOSE CALL FOR TWO MEN.

Failed to Cross the Bow of the Chateaugay with a Power Boat.

Burlington, July 21.—Herbert L. Pitcher, proprietor of the Cometa Lunch room, and Louis Pigeon one of his employees, narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Pitcher and Mr. Pigeon were running Mr. Pitcher's power boat inside the breakwater, when the Chateaugay, which was just starting on her trip to St. Albans bay, approached. The pilot on the steamer seeing that the boat was in his course, whistled several times to warn the occupants but they evidently thought there was sufficient time to cross in front of the steamer. The Chateaugay immediately began to back paddle, but not in time to avoid an accident, for the wheel struck the bow of the boat and hit Mr. Pitcher who had jumped into the water and was attempting to swim away from the steamer. Pigeon had also jumped into the lake and was swimming away from the wheel. A life buoy was thrown out the Chateaugay and Arthur Shequin, steward at the yacht club, and Harry Bacon hearing the cries for help, rowed to the scene of the accident and arrived just in time to save Pigeon from drowning. After the accident the power boat with its engine going at full speed, furnished an amusing sight, as it described circles around the bay until it was caught.

DIED IN BRADFORD.

Mrs. Nellie Eastman Flanders Had Been Ill Long Time.

Manchester, N. H., July 21.—Mrs. Nellie Eastman Flanders, who will be remembered by very many in this city as the devoted wife of the late Herbert W. Eastman, a talented newspaper man and for several years previous to his death in January, 1898, secretary of the board of trade, died at Bradford, Vt., Saturday, after a long period of failing health.

Mrs. Flanders was a native of Candia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eben Eaton, who since her marriage to Moses G. Flanders of Bradford had made their home with her there, and a woman of unusual talent and ability, and while a resident of this city was prominent in the many social societies and events with which her husband was connected. She held membership in Arbutus lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, and always maintained her interest in Manchester people and its affairs.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Ursula chapel, Pine Grove cemetery.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEE LONG TIME.

Charles F. McCarty Died Yesterday in Northfield, Aged 50.

Northfield, July 21.—Charles F. McCarty, aged 50 years, died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Hannah McCarty, on Water street, yesterday, after an illness, covering many years, of Bright's disease. About four weeks ago he became much worse and failed rapidly until he died.

Mr. McCarty was for twenty years or more in the service of the Central Vermont railroad, during the greater part of this time being a freight conductor. He is survived by his mother, one sister, and three brothers, Mary, John and Thomas of this town, and Dexter, who has for many years lived in the West.

The funeral will take place at St. John's church at ten o'clock to-morrow morning, the Rev. Fr. J. P. O'Neil officiating. Burial will be made in Calvary cemetery.

CAUGHT A TRAMP.

They Believed That They Were Getting Alleged Murderer.

New York, July 21.—Believing they were about to capture August Eberhard, the grocer's clerk who is sought by the police in connection with the murder of his aunt, Mrs. Ottilie Eberhard, the police and a posse of citizens searched a two-acre thicket at Oakdale, N. J., last evening, finally capturing the suspect only to learn that he was a tramp.

PROBABLY DEMENTED.

Man Also Tried to Commit Assault on Young Girl.

Albany, N. Y., July 21.—Thomas Luther, who is said to have come into this State from Massachusetts two weeks ago, was arrested late yesterday afternoon at the home of his brother on North Swan street, suspected of being the man who early this afternoon attempted an assault upon Marion Smith, aged 15, daughter of Irwin J. Smith of Menands.

The Smith child and two others were bathing in Little lake, a small pond on the hill west of the river about half way between here and Troy, when a man without clothing seized her and dragged her into the woods. She was roughly handled, but not seriously injured, and the child's screams attracted ing men of the neighborhood, the man fled naked through the woods, and for the time escaped. His clothing was found on the bank of the pond opposite where the children were bathing.

Among the things found in the clothing was a hypodermic needle, such as is used by persons addicted to certain drugs. When Luther was arrested in the north end of the city some hours later, he had on only a pair of overalls. The police say he is plainly demented. They say he was arrested a year ago in Pittsfield on a suicide charge.

Stated convocation of Granite chapter, No. 24, R. A. M., will be held in Masonic hall, Tuesday evening, July 21st, at 8 o'clock, for the dispatch of business. W. H. Bradbury, H. P.
